Volunteers Complete 57 Years Publishing Greenbelt's Newspaper

Small, yes. Amateurish—well that's a matter of opinion. Old-fashioned—sure, if by that is meant dedication to facts, an avoidance of sensationalism, and a certain concern for the feelings of our citizens in their times of trouble. Sometimes warmly supported and sometimes vehemently attacked, but always central to the life of the community. We're talking, of course, about the Greenbelt News Review, which is now celebrating its 57th year of continuous publication.

The paper is unique—the longest-running, all-volunteer, co-operative weekly newspaper in the United States—and has been featured in numerous books and television programs, as well as graduate theses and other student papers on Greenbelt, planned towns, and the cooperative movement. Some of these researchers have focused on the paper's four-year, David-and-Goliath struggle against a $2,000,000 libel suit in which the paper was finally vindicated by the U.S. Supreme Court in 1970. The News Review decision struck a blow for freedom of the press, and the case is still studied and quoted as a significant legal precedent.

In a town of many co-ops, the News Review is the oldest. Originally a letter-sized mimeographed publication consisting of sixteen pages, then titled the Greenbelt Cooperator, the paper began publication on November 24, 1937 — six weeks after the first families had occupied their homes.

For those who have wondered how the paper gets out each week, the staff is largely volunteer (or, at least, minimally paid) and, in the Greenbelt tradition, organized as a labor co-operative. The paper is unconnected with the city government, the other cooperatives in the city, or with Greenbelt Homes, Inc. The paper gratefully accepts support from any segments of the community — from the city in the form of city advertising, from GHI, in corporate ads and in housing for its operations and from the citizens when the financial pinch gets too tight. However, it is essentially self-supporting. This year our voluntary subscription drive was very successful, bringing us $5,000 from 225 donors.

The paper lives by its advertising revenues, which cover all normal operations.

History

The early pioneers recognized the immediate need for a news medium to keep people informed of local events and to provide a forum for the exchange of views. They laid down the principles that still guide the actions of the present News Review — a non-partisan, non-profit cooperative endeavor, whose aims are to print the news accurately and fairly and to respect the Greenbelt "good neighbor" philosophy of life.

Office Space

In January 1938 the Federal Government (which owned Greenbelt at that time) made space available at the town commercial center, free of cost, and also loaned much-needed furniture, typewriters, and office equipment. The paper moved its office four times before coming to rest in the present basement office at 15 Parkway.

With the withdrawal of the Federal Government from town, Greenbelt Homes, Inc., through its wholly owned subsidiary, Greenbelt Development Corporation, continued the Federal policy of providing free office space with the paper reimbursing the corporation for out-of-pocket expenses.

Call it dingy or call it quaint, the present venerable office—painted pumpkin orange in a rare, long-ago spasm of redecorating—features a wall filled with electric meters and a ceiling ornamented with iron pipes, shut-off valves, and festoons of wiring. No two pieces of furniture match. Next year, however, the News Review expects to move to a fresh, new above-ground space in the Greenbelt Arts Center (formerly the Center School), and a decorating committee has been formed to see if some less than disreputable furniture can be scrounged.

Free Delivery

An important development in the history of the newspaper was the decision to deliver the Cooperator free of charge to every home in town, beginning with the issue of September 7, 1939.

The policy of free distribution remained unchanged except for See NEWS REVIEW, page 9

Contractor Is Hired to Service Nine Capital Projects for City

by Alex Barnes

At the November 14 regular Greenbelt City Council meeting, council approved a contract for the management of specific capital improvement projects. This contract was deemed necessary for the timely completion of these projects. Also on the agenda were three issues related to development. Council considered filing an appeal regarding the subdivision plan for Capital Office Park, which was recently passed without incorporating the city's conditions for approval.

Council also heard presentations concerning FDA development under way in the Greenbelt/Beltsville area and a housing development adjoining Greenbelt Park. Related to development, council passed a resolution supporting Greenbelt's desire for "Home Rule" in regard to planning and zoning issues.

In other business, council approved a special exception for additions to the Greenbelt Convalescent Center. Council also passed ordinances and a resolution concerning cable television in Greenbelt. On the consent agenda were renewal of the lease for the Greenbelt lake concession stand and modification of the WMATA compact. The WMATA compact modifications would allow Transit Police Officers to carry issued weapons while off duty and would provide Transit Police with authority throughout the Transit Zone.

On the brighter side of life, Mayor Antoinette Bram presented a Prince Georges County Beautification award to Greenbelt's Public Works Horticulture department.

Management of Capital Improvement Projects

Council approved a contract with Greenman-Pederson, Inc. (GPI) for management services for nine of the city's capital projects at a cost of $20,000. This cost will be billed against the projects they affect. The purpose of the contract is to relieve city staff of functions which may be delegated to a consultant. Otherwise, projects may be delayed for lack of staff. Staff will continue to be involved in the management and oversight of all capital projects.

Councilmember Thomas White stated that this contract was a good way to get projects done in a timely manner. He also was pleased that the contract costs were added to the specific projects. Mayor Bram affirmed that this contract was only for the nine projects specified, and that additional projects would require council approval.

The nine projects specified are Ridge Road improvements, Crescent Road sidewalk construction, Greenbrook Lake, police garage, feasibility study of pedestrian overpass to Greenbelt Park, Greenbelt Lake water im-

TOY DONOR CHAMPS LIVE IN GREENBRIAR

The Greenbriar Community Association received an award of $200 for donating the largest quantity of toys at Beltway Plaza Mall's Holiday Season Parade on November 19. Greenbriar and Glen Oaks residents, together with the Lions Club, had collected a truck full of toys, which were on display in the parade.

J Davis, City Council member and long-time Greenbriar resident, accepted the award on behalf of the Community Association. She said the check would be donated to the "Make a Wish" foundation, specifically for a little girl in Hyattsville who has leukemia and whose wish is to go to Disney World and meet Mickey Mouse.

Joe Wilkinson of the Greenbelt Lions Club commented, "Many little children will have smiles on their faces on Christmas morning, thanks to Greenbriar's efforts."

Greenbriar residents have also conducted a canned food drive and a winter coat drive in 1994. All donated items will benefit needy residents in Greenbelt and Prince Georges County.

APB Considers Park for Dogs

by Annie Birdsong

The dogs of Greenbelt are a constituency that has been ignored for too long, but those who think this situation is all right may soon find they are barking up the wrong tree. The latest poop is that Kris White and her 66-member Greenbelt Dog Park association are appealing to the city for assistance in creating a dog park.

At a meeting of the city's Advisory Planning Board (APB) on November 16, the group explained that a safe, off-leash environment, out of the way of children, is needed so that dogs can really stretch their legs, and special activities such as dog licensing, periodic vaccinations, and AKC "Good Citizen" tests for dogs can be held.

APB Approves Concept

The Planning Board unanimously approved the concept and voted to prepare evaluations, including cost estimates, for two possible city-owned sites. The one favored by the dog owners is an unused portion of Schrom Hills Park. The other site, on Hanover Drive, is near traffic, where a dog bolting out of an open gate could be killed.

Robert McCarthy, APB chairperson, stated that she does not feel it is the responsibility of the city's taxpayers to provide a dog park, adding that "the city does not have unlimited resources." But Ellen Fried of the Dog Park Association pointed out that the city funds recreational facilities for swimmers, ball players, weight lifters, and other special interest groups, and that "dog owners are a larger group than any other."

George Whiting, chief of animal control for Prince Georges County, expressed the opinion that a dog park should save the city money in the long run. He commented that when people let their dogs run free in inappropriate places, the city has to spend money enforcing animal control laws.

News Review Is Getting the Message

The News Review now has a new answering system for taking messages when no one is there. Since our offices are normally open for business only between 2 and 4 p.m. on Mondays and 8 to 10 p.m. on Monday and Tuesday evenings, the answering system will be taking messages most of the time. The new system has seven boxes in which to leave messages depending on what information you need.

No longer will you get a long message telling you everything you might want to know about the News Review and then some. Instead you will be given a directory for six message boxes. At each box there will be brief information given about that aspect of the News Review operation and you can leave a message for someone to get back to you. If you have a touchtone phone you simply press the numbered dial button for the message box you want. If you don't have a touchtone phone, just wait until the end of the directory listing and the beep, and you can leave a message for us to call you.

Our six message boxes are:

1. Classified ads
2. Display ads
3. Editors
4. Subscriptions
5. Circulation
4. Business office

If you know which message box you want, you don't have to wait until the end of the directory listing to press the selection button. That can be done at any time.

Okay, let's get serious. Let's get sober. Just the facts.

The City of Greenbelt's 23rd Annual Festival of Lights will begin—

Stop that giggling!

Now, just calm down. Let's try it again.

The city's Official Tree will be lighted at the opening ceremonies Friday, Dec. 2—

You! Sit down! Quiet!

The following items will be made available: cookies, hot chocolate, band, choir, bearded fellow in red suit—

Stop that dancing!

I'm warning you guys. This is your last chance.

The entire month of December will be a nonstop round of craft workshops, field trips, lunches, dinners, dinner theater, caroling—

Stop that singing!

I give up. All you guys think about is party, party, party!

Letters

Thanks Voters

I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to the voters who re-elected me as State Senator for the 23rd District of Maryland. While I did not have an opponent this time around, I very much appreciate the strong vote of confidence by the voters who supported my candidacy.

As we begin a new term in the State Legislature, I would like to assure the residents of Greenbelt and Prince Georges County that I welcome their views and opinions on issues of concern. We face a new era of challenges on topics relating to education, public safety, the economy, and health care costs among others. Input from the citizens of Maryland remains a critical part of the legislative process, and I look forward to hearing from you.

In addition, I will continue to provide strong constituent service to the residents of the 23rd District. If my staff or I can be of any assistance to you whatsoever, please feel free to contact my office at (301) 858-3631.

Leo Green
State Senator

23rd District of Maryland

Thanks

We would like to thank all who sent cards, prayers and encouragement during my recent illness.

Sundays For Leisure

I arrived home Sunday afternoon with my family after a delightful out-to-brunch experience to find "Browne Company" doing my (GHI home) roof-gutters. The salutations of the hammers are still reverberating in my brain like an Anacin ad. All week I had a killing pace at work, so I had looked forward to "crashing" on Saturday and Sunday . . . you know, l-e-i-s-u-r-e? By the by, does that word have any meaning in these "more" enlightened and progressive days?

Is "time-and-a-half" pay on Sunday a real substitute for leisure? Must local businesses have obligatory staff meetings cutting across Sunday morning worship hours? And GHI membership meetings on Sunday?

Do these things bother anyone else?

Golden Age Club

by Dolores Capotosto

The next meeting of the Golden Age Club will be on Nov. 30. All meetings are held in the Multi-purpose room of the Youth Center, from 11 a.m. to noon. Our speaker will be Tom Branscombe from the University of Maryland. His topic will be "Senior Sports Treatment/Therapeutic Massage." How timely, since our speaker last week told us how much exercise helps to ward off osteoporosis.

A big "thank you" is in order to the owners of Jasper's Restaurant who had a delicious Thanksgiving dinner for seniors who would have been alone for the day. Some of our members attended.

With December around the corner, don't get too busy with the holiday preparation to come and participate in the upcoming election of new officers. We also have the trip to the Harrisburg Crafts Fair on Dec. 1; and the Mystery Trip on Dec. 8. What a wonderful job Jim Maher has done all year as our travel chairperson—call him at 513-5869 for information on the trips.

The box will be out at meetings to receive items for the people at Great Oaks. Check the list—maybe some of us have larger items to donate. Talk to Karen about that; these people can use so many things. Thanks to all who have donated so far.

Now let's get out there and work off that Thanksgiving dinner!

Greenbelt Student Wins Science Prize

Greenbelt Middle School student A. Grace Haliburton is one of four students who will be honored at a December Maryland Space Business Roundtable luncheon for her "Newton's Nightmare" entry at the Fourth Annual Final Frontiers science competition on November 19. Haliburton was one of about 50 county students participating in the competition.

"Newton's Nightmare" required entrants to solve a series of space-related problems, including questions about gravity, satellites and orbiting bodies. In addition to her first place finish in this event, Haliburton won third prize in the Short Light Flight and Moon Tower competitions.

The Final Frontiers competition featured events in which students used drinking straws, balsa wood, glue and other inexpensive materials to create devices designed to meet specific engineering challenges.

GEAC Talks-Council Listens

by Karen Yoho

The November meeting of the Greenbelt East Advisory Committee (GEAC) afforded a unique opportunity for GEAC to share issues, concerns and questions directly with the Greenbelt City Council. Topics for discussion included the Sunrise development, questions regarding improvements along Hanover Parkway, enhancing safety at the Greenbelt Road and Frankfort Drive intersection and enforcement of posted speed limits through Greenbelt East.

In addition to GEAC members, Greenbelt Council Members Judith "J" Davis, Edward V.J. Putens and Thomas X. White, along with Acting City Manager Michael McLaughlin, were in attendance.

The meeting was opened with two presentations from guests. First, attorneys and planners for the Sunrise development presented a site plan and answered questions from the committee. Concerns on the development centered around the special exemption that would be sought to subdivide the lot for rental and condominium units. GEAC was pleased that the presentation was made in these early stages and expects to revisit the issue again in the coming months.

Next a representative from the Friends of Greenbelt Park urged GEAC's support of their protest of the housing development on Good Luck Road. A march and protest was planned for November 5. The group is in need of a pro bono attorney to assist with the project.

Other issues on the agenda received detailed information from Michael McLaughlin. For instance, it was announced that the city has executed a contract to proceed on the study of the Greenbelt Road corridor from Cherrywood Lane to Mandan Road. Lights will be synchronized and the study may suggest a need for an overpass or traffic signal at Frankfort Drive. The study is expected to be presented at a council work session at the end of November.

Traffic Problems
Concerns regarding the traffic congestion, drivers exceeding the posted speed limits and lack of street lights and trails along

Hanover Parkway were discussed at great length. The traffic congestion exiting Greenway Center at Hanover Parkway has been investigated and an additional turn lane from northbound Hanover Parkway to westbound Greenbelt Road will be completed in the spring, according to McLaughlin.

Options to assist the city in enforcing speed limits have been increasingly utilized over the past few months. Some GEAC members reported that speed bumps or dips are being used effectively in various locations in Greenbelt East. GEAC members urged the city to support their concern for residents' safety by alerting the police to the situation. It was suggested that perhaps the police might increase their use of radar.

Regarding the lack of improvements along Hanover Parkway, Councilmember Tom White suggested that GEAC invite City Planner Celia Wilson to attend an upcoming GEAC meeting. "The burden for improvements to Hanover Parkway rests with the various developers, but Celia will know what the overall plan is and what the results will be of these improvements," said White.

The lengthy meeting provided GEAC an opportunity to bring forward to council members many issues they have discussed in recent months. At the same time they could learn more about recent city actions that impact the residents of Greenbelt East.

The next GEAC meeting is scheduled for Thursday, December 1 at the Greenbriar Terrace Room. The meeting begins at 7:30 p.m. Meetings are open to the public.

Free Concert at Md.

UMCP faculty performing are Robert Gibson, Lawrence Moss, Mark Wilson, Wesley Fuller, Michael Hamman, Thomas DeLio, and Linda Dusman. The program includes Ex Machina (Gibson, 1993), China (Moss, 1994), Windows (Wilson, 1982-83) sherds of five (Fuller, 1994), topologies/surfaces/oblique angles/installed parameters (Hamman, 1994), as again (DeLio, 1992), and a voice was heard in Rama (Dusman, 1994).

Directed by UMBC composer Stuart Saunders Smith, End of the Edge is dedicated to presenting new and unusual forms of music. All concerts are free and are presented in an informal atmosphere in Fine Arts Studio 508.

Staff

There have been 39 changes in editorship during the paper's 57 years. For the last 22 years, the position has been held by Mary Lou Williamson. There are now 61 staff members, most of whom have joined the paper as their contribution to their community's activities.

An innovation begun 15 years ago, augmenting the staff through an agreement with the Departments of English and Journalism of the University of Maryland to accept placement of student interns, is being continued to the News Review's advantage.

Students have participated in the regular work of writing and editing copy for this paper. The program is sponsored by the Alfred M. Skolnik Memorial Fund.
This fund also provides for a yearly $100 Savings Bond to be awarded to an outstanding Eleanor Roosevelt High School graduate interested in the field of writing.

Police Blotter

Based on Information
Released by the Greenbelt
Police Department

Two armed robberies occurred in the city during the last week.
One, on Saturday, November 12 in Springhill Lake, involved a pizza delivery man who was just exiting the building after dealing with his customer. He was suddenly accosted by a man displaying a dark-colored semi-automatic handgun. The victim threw his money, wallet and car keys to the ground, where the suspect picked them up and then fled on foot in an unknown direction.

The suspect is described as a black male, 5'6", 180 pounds, with brown hair. He was clean shaven and was last seen wearing blue jeans, a checkered long sleeve shirt and black boots.

The other armed robbery involved the 7-11 store on Good Luck Rd. on Thursday, November 17 at around 1 a.m. A customer was making a purchase when he felt what he believed was a gun against his back. The suspect demanded the customer's money and jewelry and ordered the victim to lie on the floor. He then ordered the cashier to turn over the money from the cash register. He left the store immediately and fled the scene in an unknown direction.

He is described as a black male, 25 to 30 years of age, 6 feet tall, 130 pounds, with brown eyes and slight facial hair. When last seen he was wearing a red-hooded jacket. During the robbery he held a towel over his mouth.

According to another witness,
at about the time of the robbery, he observed a person leaving the parking lot and getting into the passenger seat of a waiting vehicle described as red, possibly a Nissan, with dark tinted windows and bearing a red Maryland inspectionp late. It was last seen traveling west on Good Luck Rd.

Burglaries were reported at a storage room at Eleanor Roosevelt High School, where several video cassette recorders and a camcorder were taken, and at a residence in the 7700 block of Hanover Parkway. Entry appears to have been gained by forcing open the front door.

Electronic equipment was taken.
Building materials were also taken from a construction site in the area of Hanover Parkway and Spring Manor Dr.

A 1984 Pontiac two-door black Gran Prix, bearing Maryland registration PMF445 was reported stolen from the 7900 block of Mandan Rd., also on Thursday. A 1985 two-door, yellow Nissan Sentra, bearing D.C. registration 599089, was reported stolen from the 5900 block of Cherrywood Lane.

Three Springhill Lake residents were arrested and charged with leaving a child unattended in a dwelling after neighbors reported that a two-year-old was left alone in an apartment hallway. When police responded, they discovered that her twin sister was also unattended. The three adults were released on citation pending trial.

A 1989 Mazda RX-7 reported stolen on November 11 from the 9100 block of Edmonston Rd.
was recovered on Sunday, Nov.
13, by the Baltimore City Police Dept.

While patrolling the area of Greenbelt Rd. and Hanover Parkway on Sunday, November 13, an officer stopped a vehicle for an equipment violation. Upon approaching the car, the officer detected the odor of what he believed to be marijuana. After further investigation, he arrested a 17-year-old female passenger, whom he charged with possession of marijuana. She was released on citation into the custody of a guardian pending trial.

Vandalism, thefts from and attempted thefts of vehicles were reported on Greenbelt Rd., Edmonston Rd. and Springhill Ct., Capital Dr. and Ivy Lane, and Lakeside Dr. and the 400 block of Ridge Rd.

Hotline on Drugs

The Greenbelt Police Department needs the help of onymous.

Safety Keeps Kids After School Here

by Barbara Likowski

Children seemed to overflow the Greenbelt Elementary School cafeteria at the 3:10 p.m. dismissal time on Wednesday, November 16. Would be bus riders from Landover waited patiently for the signal to board buses already there. But it was a long time coming. (Walkers and Greenbelt bus riders went home as usual.)

In the meantime after a small snack, older children took advantage of the extra time to begin homework. Younger children watched videos there and later in several classrooms. All were under the supervision of staff members who stayed to help.

The crisis was caused by a hostage situation in Landover where some of the children lived. A police barricade was put up there and children from both John Carroll Elementary in Landover and Greenbelt Elementary were kept at their schools until it was safe for them to return home.
Greenbelt's principal, Carolyn Goff, accidentally learned about the hostage taking when talking to a parent. News about the barricade did not reach the school until minutes before dismissal.
Quick decisions had to be made to safeguard the children. School security, the police, the School Transportation Dept., the school's public affairs office and the total Greenbelt staff worked together to assure a safe homecoming for the children. Parents were very supportive and waited patiently for their children to return home.

Finally the bus drivers had to leave for their next run and then returned. Around 4:30 the buses were able to take the tired but very cooperative children home. It had been a long day.

City Notes

Asphalt patching was done on Laurel Hill Road. Storm drains and underpasses were cleaned and the underpasses were checked for graffiti.

Construction at the Police gun range continued and interior painting was done at the Police Station.

Preliminary Plan for Capital Office Park

Council considered filing an appeal concerning the subdivision plan of Capital Office Park (COP). According to City Planner Celia Wilson, the Prince

Georges County Planning Board unanimously approved the COP preliminary subdivision plan without incorporating the city's conditions for approval. City Solicitor Robert Manzi said that while the city has a legitimate legal argument for an appeal, the burden of proof is still great. He estimated the cost of the appeal at between five and 10 thousand dollars. Council decided to defer their decision to an executive session, when Manzi would provide them with additional information which he could not divulge in public.

FDA Development in BARC

Jag Bhargava, of the General Service Administration (GSA), presented information on the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) project which will soon be started near the Beltsville Agricultural Research Center (BARC). Bhargava began with the project's origin: four years ago, during the Bush administration, Congress voted to consolidate the FDA offices, which consist of 48 buildings in 18 locations, into a single FDA campus.

Congress later decided, according to Bhargava, to separate the single campus concept into two smaller campuses with approximately 2/3 of the offices located in Montgomery County and the remainder in Prince Georges County. Not until 1993, with the installment of the Clinton administration, was the Maryland delegation in Congress able to acquire funding for the project, said Bhargava.

The Center for Veterinary Medicine (CVM) and Center for Food Safety (CFS) will be located in Prince Georges County. The CVM has been built next to an existing FDA site. Bhargava said that a concept for the CFS has been developed but cannot be approved until it is fully funded.

Councilmember White asked how many workers these facilities employ, and if traffic considerations were taken into account. Bhargava responded that the CVM employs 256 people and the CFS will add another 1200. In addition, he said that transportation issues were not considered in detail. Mayor Bram commented that council was not unhappy that most of the facility will not be located near Greenbelt.

Greenbelt Park Development

Council, at the request of the Friends of Greenbelt Park, decided to send a letter to the National Park Service (NPS) opposing the use of park land for the storm water management plan of the adjoining Parkcrest development. Additional letters will be sent to U.S. Representative Steny Hoyer and Senators Barbara Mikulski and Paul Sarbanes.

Jean Snyder of the Friends of Greenbelt Park and Doug Love spoke to council on this issue. Snyder related the difficulties she has encountered with NPS in trying to obtain information and to attend meetings related to the Parkcrest development and Greenbelt Park. She said that NPS was under no obligation to give this private development any land. City Solicitor Manzi commented that it is unusual for federal land to be used for private development.

Planning and Zoning Issues

Council suspended their rules in order to pass a resolution concerning the delegation of authority of planning and zoning to the City of Greenbelt, an authority currently held by the county. It has been a long standing council objective that Greenbelt have its own planning and zoning authority, so that Greenbelt may better control its own destiny and thus its quality of life.

City Manager Daniel Hobbs feels that this is a good opportunity, with seven new county council members and a new county executive, to get Greenbelt's arguments for self-zoning heard. Hobbs has met with city managers from Bowie and College Park on this issue. He hopes that, in working with these cities, a "unified front" can be presented to the county and state over the next 60 to 90 days on this issue.

Artwork Donated

Barbara Simon, chair of the Arts Advisory Committee, gave a presentation concerning artwork being donated to Greenbelt by the daughter of Lenore Thomas Straus. Lenore Thomas was the sculptor of the mother and child statue in Roosevelt Center and of the bas reliefs on the walls of Center School. Being donated to Greenbelt, according to Simon, are six to eight prints and small sculptures. Simon said that it was Straus' desire that her work be displayed where they would be accessible to people, rather than stored in a museum's basement.

Simon believes that the gallery in the Community Center (Room 139) would be a good place. She noted that some minor modifications, which comprise the historic preservation of the building, would need to be made to the room. Council referred this issue to staff.

Outside Activities

The Mayor invited her fellow councilmembers to spend a few minutes describing what work they do, as councilmembers, in addition to attending city council meetings. Each member serves as a liaison to at least one, and sometimes two, of the city's advisory boards and committees (e.g., Advisory Planning Board, Arts Advisory Committee). In addition, they participate, in various ways, in the Maryland Municipal League, National League of Cities, and the Washington area Council of Governments. Councilmember White said that Greenbelt benefits from council's association with these organizations through the sharing of ideas to solve common problems, and when approaching state and federal governments on legislation that has ramifications on local government.

Other Business

Council, with APB recommendation, passed a special exception for the Greenbelt Convalescent Center to permit building additions consisting of 2,400 sq. ft. dining facility and a 3,500 sq. ft. therapy-rehabilitation facility.

Council passed on their second reading two ordinances to amend the city's cable television ordinance to allow extension of the cable television franchise, and a resolution that grants Maryland Cable Corporation an extension of the cable television franchise through May 1998. The latter resolution authorizes Maryland Cable Corp. to construct, operate and maintain a cable television system in Greenbelt.

Council suspended their rules in order to pass a resolution to authorize the negotiated purchase of a store front type window for the Youth Center. This window will replace the glass/Plexiglass window that overlooks Braden Field. Council authorization was required because the cost ($9,713.41) exceeds $7,500. According to the meeting notes, this cost lies within the estimated budget.

The first reading of a resolution to establish a 401 plan with the ICMA Retirement Corporation was made. This plan is proposed to allow Greenbelt employees to contribute more to their retirement savings than is currently possible with the ICMA-RC 457 plan. The proposed 401 plan would be established at no cost to either the City or the employees.
